Position Title	Director of Marketing & Admissions	Reference: September 2019
Function/Department	Marketing & Admissions	Location: AIS
Manager Title	Managing Director - Operations
Position Type	Permanent
Position Status	Full-time

Position Objective

The Director of Marketing & Admissions (DMA) is responsible for the strategic development and execution of the broad and comprehensive integrated marketing, external marketing communications, events program and sales strategy with the purpose of ensuring the Australian International School (AIS) continues to attract (and convert) new joiner students for recruitment.

The DMA leads and mentors the Marketing, Admissions and Application teams as part of the support functions of the School, reporting into the Managing Director of Operations. The DMA works collaboratively across functions and teams within the wider school community (in particular the academic team, in addition to other support functions such as finance, HR, IT, facilities and communications), adding value as a leader beyond just their functional expertise.

Admissions

The Admissions program should anchor on attracting (and converting) prospective families to AIS through integrated and direct sales efforts, and supported by determining internal team accountabilities, the ongoing staff selection, orientation, training, coaching and performance management of the Admissions team. The overall goal is to ensure joiner targets are met.

The DMA is accountable for developing and driving sustainable growth strategies by identifying, collating and analysing critical market trends, triangulating with internal data points from various academic leaders and the immediate marketing and admissions teams.

S/he ensures continuous improvement of the enquiry to classroom (E2C) journey, and the successful implementation of and engagement with the new E2C platform (Dynamics). The DMA will seek out system improvements where practicable, and implement customer-centric and focused strategies which support the School's strategic plan of being distinctive and the school of choice.

S/he is accountable for maintaining an accurate forecast and proactively reviews pipeline numbers with finance, academic leads (for capacity planning), HR (for manpower resourcing) and IT (for device/asset management).

S/he is accountable for ensuring quality offers from direct applications (i.e. via our online portal or other application modes) are made on a weekly cadence that supports the overall student recruitment ambition goals, without compromising the compliance to internal admissions criteria for AIS's distinctive parent-paid programs (e.g. but not limited to EAL) and external regulatory requirements around the Student Pass and Dependent Pass processes under the Immigrations and Checkpoints Authority (ICA), and the Committee of Private Education (CPE) guidelines.

Marketing

The marketing program specifically should be designed to stimulate new quality student enrolment opportunities in line with the school's ambitious joiner growth objectives through engaging and innovative marketing strategies that are insightfully tuned to the target markets. This role has a dedicated focus on digital marketing strategy and tactics to drive leads (opportunities) on-island and off-island and measuring efficacy and efficiency of campaigns in terms of conversions and cost.

As one of the leading key Brand custodians, the DMA is accountable for the consistent and authentic representation of the AIS brand to all audiences, across all channels aligned to the agreed vision and values. This includes touch points within the campus to uphold the distinctive premium positioning and create a sense of warmth and spirit of excellence synonymous with the School philosophy.

The DMA is a senior contributor at the School and therefore leads by example to demonstrate an impeccable work ethic, diligent time management, and represents an enthusiastic stakeholder 'go to' resource for the School at large. As an insightful strategic thinker, the DMA possesses the ability to successfully convey ideas both as a well-presented speaker and through crafted narrative.

This role has a high level of accountability and the key measures will be the number of new quality leads (which convert to quality opportunities) generated towards enrolment, improving advocacy measures which stimulate referrals and positive word of mouth for the School, and successful vendor management to maximize effectiveness of the strategy and budget. Collaborating with, and reporting to the Cognita Asia team is fundamental to transparent communication and managing performance expectations.
